

Educating the Concubine

Written by Arian Mabe (Amethyst Mare)

“It is time, my sweet child.”

The dark-haired man scratched the stubble on his chin, looking down at his adult daughter with his fingers pressed together. Secluded away in the study of the mansion – expansive and luxurious to a fault – his kind eyes creased at the corners, laughter lines tracing routes across his face, too pale to have suggested any manner of outdoor activity. His daughter knelt before the soot blackened fireplace, flicking a scrap of string for the ginger family tomcat, who stalked it with as much eagerness as a kitten. But all was about to change for one not so little girl.

He suppressed a smile, pressing his lips together, as his daughter shook her head and pushed herself to her feet, which were bare. Her night shift fell to her knees, an old-fashioned style of nightwear that she had insisted on for her last birthday. It had been expensive but nothing had a price tag too great when it came to Julianne. The man’s gaze slipped down her body, taking in her form speculatively.

Not with what the family had planned for her in their modern times.

“Child?” Julianne put her hands on her hips like the little girl she had once been, painted pink lips pursing in a pout. “I’m long past that! I’m a lady now!”

Her father laughed and shook his head, slouching in the armchair as his fat belly bulged. His navy dinner jacket was finely hemmed in gold thread and he fingered it lovingly as he gestured with his other hand, eyebrows pushing in to the centre of his face.

“Indeed you are, my sweet.” He paused. “And that is why I must ask something great of you, as my only daughter.”

Brushing her long brown hair back behind her shoulders, she stood up taller, setting her shoulders back. Her brown eyes – from her mother’s side – sparkled, misunderstanding the situation. Her father was so known to jest and how was she to suspect anything different.

“What must you ask of me?”

He took a breath, straightening his back in the too comfortable chair.

“I must ask something of you, daughter, something that fathers of our family have no doubt asked for generations upon generations. It is a task that women of the family have taken on and a burden and joy that they alone have the honour to carry.”

Julianne fiddled with a split end in her hair, hiding a flutter of nerves behind a steely stare that matched any male with a mind to take her on. Her father smiled. There was no doubting her spirit. She would do fine.

“What did you have in mind, father? This could not be anything to do with the alliance between our family and the Geecken’s now, could it?”

Her father nodded gravely, blue eyes taking on a serious edge.

“You are sharp. It is indeed so. We must form our alliance and, if you agree, you will marry your choice of their sons, joining the harem or acting as the first concubine of one.” He rolled his shoulders back, smile sheepish. “That matter depends on which son you choose, however, and I cannot tell how that side may progress from this stance.”

“If I agree?”

She seemed surprised and her father frowned, leaning forward with his hands on the arms of the chair. Now, there would be none of that. They were not in the olden times any more, indeed they were not! Though that thought came with a hint of irony taking into account the notion of sending his daughter into another family’s harem, all for the purpose of sealing the alliance between their noble houses. All for the greater good, of course.

“Of course. Julianne, I care for you too much to even consider the barbaric notion of forcing you into an unwanted marriage and family that may make you unhappy. I want you to be happy with this life.” He tapped his fingers pointedly. “And that is why I have a surprise for you. Something to...help, you could say.”

“A surprise?” That had her attention and Julianne’s expression brightened, bouncing up on to the balls of her feet, toes curling. “What is it? What’s the surprise?”

“It wouldn’t be a surprise if I told you right now. Close your eyes.”

Julianne obediently closed her eyes: she was used to doing as she was told. What reason had she to do otherwise? Her father had never led her astray. She had never wanted for anything in her life. Yet she was still due an awakening.

Through hazed eyelids, she fidgeted, shifting her weight as her father called to someone outside the room and several others traipsed in, their footsteps unusually heavy. Her forehead furrowed. How odd. Guests were usually so careful to tread lightly over the imported carpets, another symbol of their wealth. She almost broke form, opened her eyes and chastised them herself, only just holding herself in check. The bodies shuffled together as her father supposedly gathered them. She licked her lips, finding them suddenly dry. What was going on? Who was in the room? She bit the inside of her lip, forcing herself to stay in place. So many questions!

“Julianne?” Her father recalled her attention. “You can open your eyes now.”

Too keenly, she opened her eyes and took a step back, dazzled by the strange and wonderful creatures that stood before her as if they belonged in the mahogany study. She looked between her father and them several times, jaw falling slack.

What she could only describe as dinosaurs stood before her, as plain as day. But they weren’t dinosaurs like she had seen in her picture books as a younger girl. These dinosaurs were full of life and stood on two legs, eyeing her with great interest. First in line stood an Ankylosaurus with dark green plates covering its back and sides. Its head was smaller and blockier than expected and rimmed with white horns or tusks – Julianne could not honestly place the correct term, so great was her shock. The young woman’s gaze flicked to the next, a taller Dimetrodon clad in muddied green leathery skin and a fantastic crimson sail, complete with darker spines, right down its back from its shoulders to its gently undulating tail. A carnivore, it bared its teeth ferociously, though there was no malice in the golden eyes, only a welcome that Julianne could not understand.

A Mosasaur lay on the floor in front of their feet, glistening wetly as it raised her tail in welcome. In the place of legs was a tail with wickedly cut tail fins, giving the impression that it could power through the water with the laziest of motions. Although a Mosasaur would not have been comfortable on land all those years ago, it seemed to have no issue and weaved a long snout, which glittered with fish-catching teeth, back and forth.

Tucked on the edge of the group, a small four-legged Ankylosaurus peered around the leg of its anthropomorphic counterpart, patterned in sleek, grey plates and blinking its blue eyes shyly. Although every dinosaur had their differences, Julianne gulped at the tucked up sheaths, barely a slit, nestled upon their crotches, demonstrating that they were not all that they seemed to be. Even more confusingly for her, their chests bulged in an imitation of breasts, moulding to their natural forms as perfectly as if they had always been there, only waiting to be revealed. Female? Male? What were they?

The standing Ankylosaurus crooned and shifted, cupping its breasts in both paws. Its – her? His? – eyes never left Julianne.

Julianne shivered. There was something unerringly human about them. They did not have the mindless eyes of animals or imagined images of dinosaurs. She half reached out to them and let her hand drop back to her side, hesitating in the moment. There was intelligence behind them. How could she simply touch them without permission? That wasn't something a person did to another...person?

“Oh, do enjoy them as you will,” her father encouraged, heaving himself to his feet as if to better admire the group. “They are here for your pleasure. Every one of them.”

Julianne shook her head.

“How...how is this even possible? What are they?”

“To the naked eye, they appear as dinosaurs on two legs, acting and behaving as humans do. That is, besides this little one.” He scratched the four-legged Ankylosaurus on the head. “This may be rather a short explanation but they are...hm... They have been created through bio-engineering for human pleasure. They are intelligent, do not misunderstand, but they are eager to please and, trust me, more than content with their lives. They are well practiced. And, of course, here so you may have your first sexual experience and all you desire from them, daughter.”

He laughed and spread his hands apart, a noticeable bulge in his velvet trousers, too smart for any normal home.

“I would explain more, darling, but I'm sure you are keen to have fun with them. Their cocks are fully functional as hermaphrodites, I assure you.”

She gulped, eyes wide, and reflexively covered herself, though she was still as clothed as ever in her little night shift. Sex was not a foreign concept to her – she knew what would happen if she joined the Geecken family and the harem. Only the opportunity to leave her virginity behind had never arisen as she'd never found anyone she liked enough to spend the night with, leaving boys and men with the company of their own hand date after date. She rarely even took care of herself with her fingers at night. Julianne curled her fingers around the opposite biceps, buying time, thoughts racing. And now she was to learn how to have sex with a group of dinosaurs?

She paused. Was that so bad? Strange, yes, but not bad.

“You want me to have...sex with them... What? In front of you?” Her hand trembled. “My first time should not be with my father watching. What if you tell me I’m doing it wrong?”

Her father laughed and spread his hands.

“If it makes you more comfortable, take them to your bedroom. It’s more than large enough for every one of them and may be sweeter for your first time. But, if you are to help us form the alliance, you will have to learn, my darling, and learn swiftly too. I will join you later with your mother.”

He did not give her any choice in the matter, regardless of the semblance of it, and strode to the door with a sharp, snappy step, belly swinging. He paused in the door frame, smoothing his hair down, fingers stroking over streaks of grey.

“Make me proud, Julianne.”

Julianne did not know what to do, besides follow directly and wordlessly gesture to the crowd of dinosaurs to follow her, unknowingly treating them with as little mind as she gave the servants. The Ankylosaurus and Dimetrodon gathered the Mosasaur in their arms and carried hir giggling and clacking her jaws up the stairs to Julianne’s bedroom, feet finding every step as if they had walked the path before. Julianne bit the inside of her cheek, stepping into her room to sit on the bed and survey them, feet bare and knees bent high enough to let her feet swing above the carpet.

The Ankylosaurus assisted in depositing the Mosasaur gently on the bed behind Julianne and rested hir paw on Julianne’s shoulder, making her jump yet not flinch away. Hir touch was warm.

“Julianne, what a lovely name,” the Ankylosaurus purred. “It is our pleasure to serve you, my lady Julianne. Julianne.”

“Do you have names?” She asked, for want of something better to say.

“None as yet. Would you like to name us? Or would you like to get started?” Shi chuckled, a throaty burble. “My shadow is oh so keen to meet you, Julianne, your father’s told us ever so much about you.”

The feral Ankylosaurus peeked around the edge of the bed, lips parted and tugged up in a smile that would not have been possible on one of hir natural kind. Shi rested hir chin on the bed spread and chuffed softly, a huff of breath that was barely discernible washing over Julianne's thigh. Her nightdress had ridden up. The woman shivered but made no move to cover herself.

The Ankylosaurus pressed himself closer, sitting beside the woman and slinking an arm around her waist. Julianne relaxed the best she could into the herm's touch, head on his collarbone so that she looked down at the alluring swell of his breasts.

"Are you scared?" The Ankylosaurus asked.

"No... Well... Maybe a bit," Julianne admitted. "I only don't know what I should do. I have to learn but I don't know what I should be doing yet."

"You should focus on what feels good to you," she stated boldly. "Come – we know why we are here. We know what we are to do. And we have been waiting! So long! Waiting to meet you, Julianne. All so we can show you the joys of your body."

The Ankylosaurus grabbed her by the shoulders and pushed her back on the bed, bringing a thick leg around to straddle Julianne's waist. Though she squeaked, the sound was from surprise rather than protest and devolved into a low murmur as the Ankylosaurus pushed up her night shift past her hips to reveal an expanse of milky white stomach, never exposed to sunlight. Julianne blushed and arched her back, rocking her body without thinking into the kind 'saur's touch, enjoying the lick of cool air on her skin.

"You're bold..."

"We're designed to be bold, sweetie," the Ankylosaurus laughed as the Mosasaur dropped her head on Julianne's thigh, tail slapping the bed spread. "That's who we are. You should get used to that."

Hovering over the woman, she dipped her muzzle to Julianne's breasts, breath tickling her skin and making her nipples rise into tiny, hard peaks. Too small for the Ankylosaurus' muzzle, they merely brushed his lips, and the dinosaur nuzzled between the fleshy mounds, caught beneath a thin layer of fabric. The Ankylosaurus frowned. It was in his way. How annoying.

Julianne gasped as her new friend drew her clothing up and over her shoulders, arms slipping from the long sleeves to leave her nude on the bed bare her underwear, though she had not worn a bra to begin with. Her heart drummed against her ribcage, yet there was no time to call upon fear – everything was moving quickly, too quickly! Julianne watched as if from another body as the Mosasaur squirmed closer on the bed, expertly rocking his lithe, powerful body with a flick of his tail, a protrusion already showing at the point where Julianne could only suspect his torso became his lower half and tail. His cock bulged, pink and tapered to a point, slapping his belly. Julianne moaned as the Mosasaur's snout pushed between her thighs and she rubbed over the woman's underwear-clad pussy.

Rocking, Julianne whimpered and clung to the Anky, fingers coming up short against his plates as they could not dig in as they would to flesh. The Ankylosaurus petted her hair and knelt above her head, his own shaft easing ever so slowly from his slit as if reluctant to be put on show. As the Dimetrodon joined them on the bed, the Ankylosaurus presented her swelling, fat length, shaped like an uncut human member, to Julianne's lips as if in offering.

The woman grasped at the dinosaur's hips, back over her head, and lunged for the length, clumsy in her haste. She could but try!

"Easy now..."

Julianne paid hir no mind as she lapped experimentally over the offered cock, tasting salt and sweet in a single lap of her tongue. She could not explain the taste and had no need to as she let her head fall back on the bed and the herm pushed the very tip of hir cock between Julianne's lips, sliding into her mouth as she would soon do her virgin cunt. The woman's eyes watered and she scrabbled, pushing her hips up from the bed as her mouth was filled, a too large cock nudging insistently at the back of her throat. Her eyes bulged and Julianne hacked a shuddered cough around the 'saur's cock, lips strained in a tight 'O', even as the heat in her body rose and rose. It seemed there was no stopping the inferno, as swift as her education was progressing.

The Anky grasped her shoulders and carefully rolled Julianne on to her side as the Mosasaur eagerly shot up the bed behind her, cock pushing between Julianne's butt cheeks and leaving a slick trail of pre cum in its wake. The Mosasaur gripped the woman with her flippers, what may have evolved into legs one day, and thrust against her. Hir cock thrust over skin, missing her pussy, and shi snapped far above Julianne's head, readjusting to slide further back down the bed, shaft pushing between the woman's thighs: much better.

Complaining on the rug beside the bed, the little Ankylosaurus paced and paced, finally taking a running jump and, somehow, hauling himself up on to the bed too, dragging half the sheets off in the process. Shi regained hir senses just in time to bear witness to the Mosasaur's cock catching in Julianne's virgin cunt as the Ankylosaurus helpfully lifted the woman's leg, allowing a better angle. Julianne whimpered as her entrance was stretched, the gradually widening dinosaur cock easing her open, fraction by fraction, until, as if by some miracle, half the length was buried inside. Julianne, however, could not move her head for the Anky cock shoving down her throat and only imagined that there was nothing but the tip stretching her out.

She had a lot to learn.

The so far forgotten Dimetrodon scurried on to all fours and, kindly dropping hir sail as much to one side as was possible, slapped hir arse, encouraging the feral Anky up on to hir back. The little Ankylosaurus needed no encouragement to thrust, fleshy cock slipping from hir slit, and, with a deal more finesse, shoved the full length into the Dimetrodon herm's cunt. The Dimetrodon groaned and pushed back, pushing hir tail out of the way as her partner grunted and thrust, ball-tipped tail swinging back and forth with every rough jab. Though they were there for Julianne, there was no reason they should not have fun while their lady mistress was otherwise occupied with their comrades!

Using hir tail to lend strength to hir thrusts, for shi had no legs to secure purchase with, the Mosasaur snapped and drove in deep, the familiar tingle of pleasure licking through hir veins like fire. Shi shivered. It was the best sensation. Or at least to hir. And none of hir fellows would disagree, shi was sure. As the young woman trembled against hir, she thrust and bucked like a wild creature, sinking in every inch of hir shaft with a slick, wet suck of combined sexual juices. Julianne's arousal dripped from her cunt whether she had intended to become so aroused or not – she could not deny the effect the herms had on her, perhaps a result of their bio-engineering. Designed to please, they could do no wrong with her. And was that not the ultimate experience for a virgin having her virginity so expertly ripped away?

The Ankylosaurus snorted and leaned over Julianne, paw resting on the Mosasaur's side as shi thrust hir full length into the woman's throat, ignoring her gagging: she had to learn to take a cock of hir size if she was to form the alliance, they had all been told. But orgasm was quick to rise and it was with a frenzied flurry of thrust that shi tumbled past the point of no return and spurted hir load straight down Julianne's throat. The Mosasaur was swift to follow, not to be outdone, and crammed the tip of hir cock right up against Julianne's cervix as shi came, bucking and clicking hir beak-like snout above Julianne's head. The woman hissed through her teeth as she was filled to the brim and the Ankylosaurus' cock softened from her lips. Julianne licked cum from her lips and swallowed what she could, mouth strangely empty after such a rough filling.

Well, she certainly couldn't say she was a virgin anymore.

Sprawled on the bed as her partners withdrew, allowing her brief respite, Julianne moaned, eyes half-lidded and the bed sheets rumpled beneath her back. The Ankylosaurus chuckled and stroked her hair, sunset streaking orange into the room. The Dimetrodon squealed as the small Ankylosaurus pumped hir full of cum, semen drooling viscously down hir inner thighs and slopping on to the bed. Yet shi was far from sated and looked to Julianne expectantly, ridged cock hard and bobbing beneath hir abdomen. Julianne's hand dropped to her sex and she toyed with her clit, rubbing in small circles as the Mosasaur squirmed, shaft still hard and refusing to soften.

"Come now, Julianne, you cannot be so tired already," shi chided, though hir snout curved up in a saurian smile. "Roll over! Let us please you more."

"Not at all!" Julianne protested, a trickle of cum running down her chin. "I am more than capable of more! Do not think me lesser!"

Shi wriggled down the bed and bumped the woman's breast with hir snout, round eyes kind and gleaming.

"Then let our little one take care of you for a time. We can wait our turn." Shi giggled and glanced between the Ankylosaurus, Dimetrodon and dismounting feral Anky. "Up on all fours now, your, heh, education is far from complete, my lady Julianne."

As if in a dream – she did not even think of disobeying – Julianne scrambled on to all fours and looked back in time to see the feral Anky launch herself bodily up on to hir back. Shi landed heavily and Julianne winced as hir arms buckled, the Ankylosaurus humping roughly until hir cock hit home, not waiting for Julianne to be ready. Sinking in deep, shi thrust with a snort of warm breath over Julianne's head, driving in a fleshy, knobbed cock that was the most prehistoric of them all. Arching as she had glimpsed the Dimetrodon do, out of the corner of her eye, Julianne rocked back into the Anky's thrusts, encouraging hir to take her as she willed, fire burning in the pit of her stomach. Julianne moaned, head thrown back. It was a much sought heat for a needy woman.

Taking up position before her face, the Dimetrodon lovingly wound his long, pianist fingers into her hair and pulled her mouth down over his cock, a more sensible size than the monster belonging to the Ankylosaurus anthro.

The Mosasaur, pausing in sucking off the Ankylosaurus anthro, slapped his tail on the bed.

“Though she’s not so little as you may hope, sweet Julianne,” she laughed. “I do hope I haven’t mislead.”

With her mouth full of cock, Julianne could not reply. So caught up was she in the raw, unbridled sex that she didn’t even notice the bedroom door yawning open and more than one person stomping inside without care for her privacy. Only when her father loomed over her, one hand grasping the bulge in his velveteen trousers, did she pay attention and mumble around the cock in her mouth. The presence of her parents did not faze her partners, however, and the Anky thrust more eagerly, ramming in with the tenor of one set to get off over and over again until she was good and satisfied. She hit a bundle of nerves within Julianne’s pussy with every thrust and the young woman whimpered, arching back as her pleasure built and built, desperate for release that teased on the edge of reality.

“I see you are enjoying yourself,” he rumbled, eyes hazed over with lust as they roamed her body and that of the dinosaurs. “Quick too. I do hope they are pleasing you well enough. They’ve had time with your mother and me... Call it practice.”

Julianne barely took in his words as the tension wound itself tauter in her lower abdomen, the Anky crooning to her as she thrust. There was no time to talk as orgasm crashed over her and Julianne convulsed, throat tightening around the Dimetrodon’s shaft as the ‘saur drove in hard, using Julianne’s hair as leverage to fuck her mouth as she would her cunt.

Julianne’s mother, a noblewoman, pressed herself into her husband’s side, dressed in a sari that dropped below one milky white breast, dark hair tumbling about her shoulders. Taking the Ankylosaurus’ cock in hand, she pumped the length expertly, keeping eye contact with her daughter as she bucked and screamed around her partner’s muffling shaft through the peak of orgasm. And she smiled. Her daughter would be ready. She stroked Julianne’s hair, tucking it behind her ear, and the Dimetrodon jammed her crotch up against the young woman’s lips, a feral roar erupting from her as she poured seed down Julianne’s throat, which worked quickly to swallow every drop.

Kissing the tip of the Ankylosaurus cock, tipped with glistening beads of pre-cum, the noblewoman winked to her daughter, the younger woman shaking lightly from the power of her climax.

“With our help, you will be prepared for the alliance.”