

First Time

Aldo is uncomfortable. Straight and in a gay establishment? The owl feels eyes on him. Unmoved, he excuses himself to the bathroom, accidentally wandering into the adult one.

He realises he's adjacent to a gloryhole stall when he's about to do his business, but he's desperate to go. Halfway through, someone in the next stall speaks, putting their muzzle up to the hole in the dividing wall. Aldo is convinced to give back his dick and a try ("all you say now at first and give it"), enjoying it. He aims in the other fur's (wolf, canine identifiable only) muzzle, the ~~dog~~ ^{wolf} swallowing his load.

Aldo leaves in a hurry - what's the cigarette? - and bumps into a weasel: "my turn!" Embarrassed, he leaves quickly and tries to return to the group, only to be waylaid by a bear. The bear says he knows what went on in the stall and that the owl better do him a favour if he wants it to be kept quiet.

Aldo complies, scared but curious - the bear doesn't seem threatening. He sneaks the bear off in the corridor, the bear keeping an eye out for other bar patrons. Finally, he grinds on the owl's face/beak, leaving him a scrap of paper with his phone number.

