

Trigger

Nickname: Trig

Trigger is a 27 yr old equine anthropologist built like a Thoroughbred. He is a cross breed and has a heavy horse in his bloodline - blocky head and feather around his fetlocks. He is a solid chestnut with a white sock and wide blaze, spot of pink dashed through the grey on his nose. He stands at 6'5".

Trig is cocky and bold, very forward, and often rubs others up the wrong way. Though he drinks a lot when off duty, he is never an aggressive drinker. He has been known to trip over his own hooves when drunk, however. His forward nature often gets him in trouble with the ladies. Ladies are more receptive - he is bisexual.

Working at a pleasure hotel in the Welsh ~~moor~~ mountains, Trigger is a stud in demand and lust for him contributes to his cocky demeanor. He has his own lodging in the hotel - a staff cottage ~~in~~ on the grounds where all of his kind live (those who are employed to provide sexual services). They do not have to live on site but Trig prefers it as he does not want to rent or buy - it's all taken care of at the hotel. Very isolated, he spends a lot of time using the hotel facilities although he enjoys going hiking. He works out every day and forces himself through yards of ice cannot go hiking on days of the week a lot but spends little due to location and heavy work - provided for him.
