

Educating the Concubine

Written by Arian Mabe (Amethyst Mare)

“It is time, my sweet child.”

The dark-haired man scratched the stubble on his chin, looking down at his adult daughter with his fingers pressed together. Secluded away in the study of the mansion, which was expansive and luxurious to a fault, his kind eyes creased at the corners, laughter lines tracing routes across his pale face. His daughter knelt beside the soot blackened fireplace, flicking a scrap of string for the ginger family tomcat, who stalked it with as much eagerness as a kitten. But all was about to change for one not so little girl who had come of age.

He suppressed a smile, pressing his lips together, as his daughter shook her head and pushed herself to her bare feet. Her night shift fell to her knees, an old-fashioned style of nightwear that she had insisted on for her last birthday. It had been expensive but nothing had a price tag too great when it came to Julianne. The man’s gaze slipped down her body, taking in her form speculatively.

Not with what the family had planned for her in their modern times.

“Child?” Julianne put her hands on her hips like the little girl she had once been, painted pink lips pursing in a pout. “I’m long past that! I’m a lady now!”

Her father laughed and shook his head, slouching in the armchair as his fat belly bulged. His navy dinner jacket was finely hemmed in gold thread and he fingered it lovingly as he gestured with his other hand, eyebrows pushing in to the centre of his face.

“Indeed you are, my sweet.” He paused. “And that is why I must ask something great of you, as my only daughter.”

Brushing her long brown hair back behind her shoulders, she stood up taller, setting her shoulders back. Her brown eyes – from her mother’s side of the family– sparkled, misunderstanding the situation. Her father was so known to jest.

“What must you ask of me?”

He took a breath, straightening his back in the too comfortable chair.

“I must ask something of you, daughter, something that fathers of our family have no doubt asked for generations upon generations. It is a task that women of the family have taken on and a burden and joy that they alone have the honour to carry.”

Julianne fiddled with a split end in her hair, hiding a flutter of nerves behind a steely stare that matched any male with a mind to take her on. Her father smiled. There was no doubting her spirit. She would do fine.

“What did you have in mind, father? This could not be anything to do with the alliance between our family and the Geecken’s now, could it?”

Her father nodded gravely, blue eyes taking on a serious edge.

“You are sharp. It is indeed so. We must form our alliance and, if you agree, you will marry your choice of their sons, joining the harem or acting as the first concubine of one.” He rolled his shoulders back, smile sheepish. “That matter depends on which son you choose, however, and I cannot tell how that side may progress from this stance.”

“If I agree?”

She seemed surprised and her father frowned, leaning forward with his hands on the arms of the chair. Now, there would be none of that. They were not in the olden times any more, indeed they were not! Though that thought came with a hint of irony taking into account the notion of sending his daughter into another family’s harem, all for the purpose of sealing the alliance between their noble houses. All for the greater good, of course.

“Of course. Julianne, I care for you too much to even consider the barbaric notion of forcing you into an unwanted marriage and family that may make you unhappy. I want you to be happy with this life.” He tapped his fingers pointedly. “And that is why I have a surprise for you. Something to...help, you could say.”

“A surprise?” That had her attention and Julianne’s expression brightened, bouncing up on to the balls of her feet, toes curling. “What is it? What’s the surprise?”

“It wouldn’t be a surprise if I told you right now. Close your eyes.”

Julianne obediently closed her eyes: she was used to doing as she was told. What reason had she to do otherwise? Her father had never led her astray. She had never wanted for anything in her life. Yet she was still due an awakening.

Through hazed eyelids, she fidgeted, shifting her weight as her father called to someone outside the room and several others traipsed in, their footsteps unusually heavy. Her forehead furrowed. How odd. Guests were usually so careful to tread lightly over the imported carpets, another symbol of their wealth. She almost broke form, opened her eyes and chastised them herself, only just holding herself in check. The bodies shuffled together as her father supposedly gathered them. She licked her lips, finding them suddenly dry. What was going on? Who was in the room? She bit the inside of her lip, forcing herself to stay in place. So many questions!

“Julianne?” Her father recalled her attention. “You can open your eyes now.”

Too keenly, she opened her eyes and took a step back, dazzled by the strange and wonderful creatures that stood before her as if they belonged in the mahogany study. She looked between her father and them several times, jaw falling slack.

What she could only describe as dinosaurs stood before her, as plain as day. But they weren’t dinosaurs like she had seen in her picture books as a younger girl. These dinosaurs were full of life and stood on two legs, eyeing her with great interest. First in line stood an Ankylosaurus with dark green plates covering its back and sides. Its head was smaller and blockier than expected and rimmed with white horns or tusks – Julianne could not place the correct term, so great was her shock. The young woman’s gaze flicked to the next, a taller Dimetrodon clad in muddied green leathery skin and a fantastic crimson sail, complete with darker spines, right down its back from its shoulders to its gently undulating tail. A carnivore, it bared its teeth, though there was no malice in the golden eyes, only a welcome that Julianne could not understand.

A Mosasaur lay on the floor in front of their feet, glistening wetly as it raised her tail in welcome. In the place of legs was a tail with wickedly cut tail fins, giving the impression that it could power through the water with the laziest of motions. Although a Mosasaur would not have been comfortable on land all those years ago, it seemed to have no issue and wove a long snout, which glittered with fish-catching teeth, back and forth.

Tucked on the edge of the group, a small four-legged Ankylosaurus peered around the leg of its anthropomorphic counterpart, patterned in sleek, grey plates and blinking its blue eyes shyly. Although every dinosaur had their differences, Julianne gulped at the tucked up sheaths, barely a slit, nestled upon their crotches, demonstrating that they were not all that they seemed to be. Even more confusingly for her, their chests bulged in an imitation of breasts, moulding to their natural forms as perfectly as if they had always been there, only waiting to be revealed. Female? Male? What were they?

The Ankylosaurus standing on two feet crooned and shifted, cupping its breasts in both paws. Its – her? His? – eyes never left Julianne.

Julianne shivered. There was something unerringly human about them. They did not have the mindless eyes of animals or imagined images of dinosaurs. She half reached out to them and let her hand drop back to her side, hesitating in the moment. There was intelligence behind them. How could she simply touch them without permission? That wasn't something a person did to another...person?

“Oh, do enjoy them as you will,” her father encouraged, heaving himself to his feet as if to better admire the group. “They are here for your pleasure. Every one of them.”

Julianne shook her head.

“How...how is this even possible? What are they?”

“To the naked eye, they appear as dinosaurs on two legs, acting and behaving as humans do. That is, besides this little one.” He scratched the four-legged Ankylosaurus on the head. “This may be rather a short explanation but they are...hm... They have been created through bio-engineering for human pleasure. Forgive my vagueness – I do not entirely understand the process myself, Julianne, I have others to take care of that. They are intelligent, do not misunderstand, but they are eager to please and, trust me, more than content with their lives. They are well practiced. And, of course, here so you may have your first sexual experience and all you desire from them, daughter.”

He laughed and spread his hands apart, a noticeable bulge in his velvet trousers, too smart for any normal home.

“I would explain more but I'm sure you are keen to have fun with them. Their cocks are fully functional as hermaphrodites, I assure you.”

She gulped, eyes wide, and reflexively covered herself, though she was still as clothed as ever in her little night shift. Sex was not a foreign concept to her – she knew what would happen if she joined the Geecken family and the harem. Only the opportunity to leave her virginity behind had never arisen as she'd never found anyone she liked enough to spend the night with, leaving boys and men with the company of their own hand date after date. She rarely even took care of herself with her fingers at night. Julianne curled her fingers around the opposite biceps, buying time, thoughts racing. And now she was to learn how to have sex with a group of dinosaurs?

She paused. Was that so bad? Strange, yes, but not bad.

“You want me to have...sex with them... What? In front of you?” Her hand trembled. “My first time should not be with my father watching. What if you tell me I’m doing it wrong?”

Her father laughed and spread his hands.

“If it makes you more comfortable, take them to your bedroom. It’s more than large enough for every one of them and may be sweeter for your first time. But, if you are to help us form the alliance, you will have to learn, my darling, and learn swiftly too. I will join you later with your mother.”

He did not give her any choice in the matter, regardless of the semblance of it, and strode to the door with a sharp, snappy step, belly swinging. He paused in the door frame, smoothing his hair down, fingers stroking over streaks of grey.

“Make me proud, Julianne.”

Julianne did not know what to do, besides follow direction and wordlessly gesture to the crowd of dinosaurs to follow her, unknowingly treating them with as little mind as she gave the servants. The Ankylosaurus and Dimetrodon gathered the Mosasaur in their arms and carried hir giggling and clacking her jaws up the stairs to Julianne’s bedroom, feet finding every step as if they had walked the path before. Julianne bit the inside of her cheek, stepping into her room to sit on the bed and survey them, feet bare and knees bent high enough to allow her feet to swing freely above the carpet.

The Ankylosaurus assisted in depositing the Mosasaur gently on the bed behind Julianne and rested a paw on Julianne’s shoulder, making her jump. The woman swallowed. Hir touch was warm.

“Julianne, what a lovely name,” the Anky purred. “It is our pleasure to serve you, my lady Julianne. Julianne.”

“Do you have names?”

“None as yet. Would you like to name us? Or would you like to begin?” Shi chuckled, a throaty burble. “My shadow is keen to meet you, Julianne, your father’s told us ever so much about you.”

The feral Ankylosaurus peeked around the edge of the bed, lips tugged up in a smile that would not have been possible on one of hir natural kind. Shi rested hir chin on the bed spread and chuffed softly, a huff of breath that was barely discernible washing over Julianne's thigh. Her nightdress had ridden up. The woman shivered but made no move to cover herself.

The Ankylosaurus pressed closer, sitting beside the woman and slinking an arm around her waist. Julianne relaxed the best she could into the herm's touch, head on his collarbone so that she looked down at the alluring swell of his breasts.

"Are you scared?" The Ankylosaurus asked.

"No... Well... Maybe a bit," Julianne admitted. "I only don't know what I should do. I have to learn but I don't know what I should be doing yet."

"You should focus on what feels good to you," she stated boldly. "Come – we know why we are here. We know what we are to do. And we have been waiting! So long! Waiting to meet you, Julianne. All so we can show you the joys of your body."

The Anky grabbed her by the shoulders and pushed her back on the bed, bringing a thick leg around to straddle Julianne's waist. Though she squeaked, the sound was from surprise rather than protest and devolved into a murmur as the Ankylosaurus pushed her night shift up past her hips to reveal a milky white stomach. Julianne blushed and arched, rocking her body without thinking into the kind 'saur's touch, enjoying the lick of cool air on her skin.

"You're bold..."

"We're designed to be bold," the Ankylosaurus laughed as the Mosasaur dropped her head to Julianne's thigh, tail slapping the bed. "That's who we are. You should get used to that."

She dipped her muzzle to Julianne's breasts, breath tickling her skin and making her nipples rise into tiny, hard peaks. Too small for the Ankylosaurus' muzzle, they merely brushed his lips, and the dinosaur nuzzled between the fleshy mounds, caught beneath a thin layer of fabric. The Ankylosaurus frowned. It was in his way. How annoying.

Julianne gasped as her new friend drew her clothing up and over her shoulders, arms slipping from the long sleeves to leave her nude on the bed but her cotton underwear on her lower half only. She hadn't thought to wear a bra that evening, skin fresh from the shower. Her heart pounded yet there was no time for fear – everything moved quickly, too quickly! The Mosasaur squirmed closer, expertly rocking his lithe, powerful body with a flick of his tail, a protrusion already showing at the point where his torso became his lower half – his tail. His cock bulged, pink and tapered to a point, as it nuzzled up to his belly. Julianne moaned, the Mosasaur's snout pushing between her thighs, and she rubbed over the woman's underwear-clad pussy as the patch of moisture there grew and grew.

Rocking, Julianne whimpered and clung to the Ankylosaurus, fingers coming up short against his plates. The Ankylosaurus petted her hair and knelt above her head, shaft easing ever so slowly from his slit that one could have thought she was reluctant to have it on show. As the Dimetrodon joined them on the bed, the Ankylosaurus presented his swelling, fat length, shaped like an uncut human member, to Julianne's lips as if in offering.

Julianne grasped at the dinosaur's hips, back over her head, and lunged for the length, clumsy in her haste. She could but try!

Julianne paid him no mind as she lapped experimentally over the offered cock, tasting salt and sweetness in a single lap of her tongue. She could not explain the taste and had no need to as she let her head fall back on the bed and the herm pushed the very tip of his cock between Julianne’s lips, sliding into her mouth as she would soon do her virgin cunt. Her eyes watered and she scrabbled for purchase, pushing her hips up from the bed as her mouth was filled, a too large cock nudging insistently at the back of her throat. Her eyes bulged and Julianne hacked a cough around the ‘saur’s cock, lips strained in a tight ‘O’, even as the heat in her body rose and rose.

The Ankylosaurus carefully rolled Julianne on to her side as the Mosasaur shot up the bed behind her, cock pushing between Julianne’s buttocks to drizzle a slick trail of pre cum in its wake. The Mosasaur gripped the woman with his flippers and thrust against her, head sideways on the bed spread. His cock thrust over skin, missing her pussy, and she snapped high above Julianne’s head, sliding back down to push his length between the woman’s thighs instead: much better.

Complaining on the rug beside the bed, the little Ankylosaurus paced and paced, finally taking a running jump and, somehow, hauling himself up on to the bed too, dragging half the sheets off in the process. She regained his senses in time to see to the Mosasaur’s cock catching in Julianne’s virgin cunt, the Ankylosaurus anthropomorphically helping lift the woman’s leg to allow a better angle for penetration. Julianne whimpered, stretched beyond her imagination of the act, the gradually widening dinosaur cock easing her open, fraction by fraction, until, as if by some miracle, half the length was buried inside. Julianne, however, could not move her head for the Ankylosaurus cock shoved down her throat and thought that there was nothing but the tip stretching her out, a monster left to still push inside. The Mosasaur chuckled. She had a lot to learn.

The so far forgotten Dimetrodon scurried on to all fours and, kindly dropping his sail as much to one side as was physically possible, slapped his arse, encouraging the feral Ankylosaurus up on to his back. The little Ankylosaurus needed no encouragement to thrust, fleshy cock slipping from him, and, with finesse, shoved the full length into the Dimetrodon herm’s cunt. The Dimetrodon groaned and pushed back, flicking his tail out of the way as his partner grunted and thrust, ball-tipped tail swinging back and forth with every rough jab. Though they were there for Julianne, there was no reason they should not have fun while their lady mistress was otherwise occupied with their comrades.

Using his tail to lend strength to his thrusts, the Mosasaur snapped and drove in deep, a familiar tingle of pleasure licking through his veins like wildfire. She shivered. It was the best sensation ever. Or at least it was to him. As the young woman trembled against him, she thrust and bucked like a wild creature, sinking in every inch of his shaft with a slick, wet suck of combined sexual juices. Julianne’s arousal dripped from her cunt whether she had intended to become so aroused or not – she could not deny the effect the herms had on her, perhaps a result of their bio-engineering. Designed to please, they could do no wrong with her. And was that not the ultimate experience for a virgin having her cherry so expertly popped?

The Ankylosaurus snorted and leaned over Julianne, paw resting on the Mosasaur’s side as she thrust his full, smooth length into the woman’s throat, ignoring her gagging: she had to learn to take a cock of his size if she was to form the alliance, they had all been told. But orgasm was quick to rise and it was with a frenzied flurry of thrusts that she tumbled past the point of no return and spurted his load straight down Julianne's throat. The Mosasaur was swift to follow, not to be outdone, and crammed the tip of his cock right up against Julianne's cervix as she came, bucking and clicking his beak-like snout above Julianne's head. The woman hissed through her teeth as she was filled to the brim and the Ankylosaurus' cock softened from her mouth. Julianne licked cum from her lips and swallowed what she could, strangely empty after such a crass filling.

She certainly couldn't say she was a virgin anymore.

Sprawled on the bed as her partners withdrew, Julianne moaned, bed sheets rumpled beneath her back. The Ankylosaurus chuckled and ran his fingers through her hair, an early sunset streaking amber and crimson into the room. The Dimetrodon squealed as the small Ankylosaurus pumped his full of cum, semen drooling viscously down his inner thighs and slopping on to the bed. Yet she was far from sated and looked to his mistress expectantly, ridged cock hard and bobbing. Julianne toyed with her clit, rubbing in small circles as the Mosasaur squirmed, shaft remaining hard and refusing to soften.

"Come now, Julianne, you cannot be so tired already," she chided, though his snout curved in a saurian smile. "Roll over! Let us please you more."

"Not at all!" Julianne protested, a trickle of cum running down her chin. "I am more than capable of everything you have to give! Do not think me lesser!"

She wriggled and bumped the woman's breast with his snout, perfectly round eyes kind and gleaming.

"Then let our little one take care of you for a time. We can wait our turn." She giggled and glanced between the Ankylosaurus, Dimetrodon and dismounting feral Ankylosaurus. "Scoot further up now, come on. Your education is far from complete, my lady Julianne."

She did not even think of disobeying and scrambled to obey, looking down in time to see the feral Ankylosaurus launch himself bodily on to her torso, feet landing on either side of her head. She landed heavily and Julianne winced as the bed groaned, the Ankylosaurus humping frantically until his cock hit home, not waiting for Julianne to be ready or give any indication of such. Sinking in deep, she thrust with a snort of warm breath through Julianne's hair, driving in deep a fleshy, knobbed cock that was the most prehistoric of them all. Arching as she had seen the Dimetrodon do, Julianne rolled her hips into the Ankylosaurus' thrusts, encouraging him to take her as each thrust fanned the flames in her lower abdomen. Julianne moaned, head thrown back. It was a much sought heat for a needy woman.

Taking up position before her face, the Dimetrodon lovingly wound his long, pianist fingers into her hair and pulled her mouth down over his cock, which boasted a more sensible size than the monster belonging to the Ankylosaurus anthro.

The Mosasaur, pausing in sucking off the Ankylosaurus anthro, slapped his tail flat on the bed.

“Though shi’s not so little as you may hope, Julianne,” shi laughed. “I do hope I haven’t mislead. Make sure you drive every inch in now, sister.”

With her mouth full of cock, Julianne could not reply. So caught up was she in the raw, unbridled sex that she didn’t even notice the bedroom door swining open and more than one person stomping inside without care for her privacy. Only when her father loomed over her grasping the bulge in his velveteen trousers did she pay attention and mumble around the cock in her mouth. The presence of her parents did not faze her partners, however, and the Ankylosaurus thrust more keenly, ramming in with the tenor of one set to get off over and over again until shi was good and satisfied. Shi hit a bundle of nerves within Julianne’s pussy with every thrust and the young woman whimpered, arching back as her pleasure built and built, desperate for release that teased on the edge of reality.

“I see you are enjoying yourself,” he rumbled, eyes hazed over with lust as they roamed her body and that of the dinosaurs. “Quick too. I do hope they are pleasing you well enough. They’ve had time with your mother and me... Call it practice. They’re ideally trained. Or they should be.”

Julianne barely took in his words as tension wound itself tauter and tauter in her lower abdomen, the Ankylosaurus crooning to her as shi thrust. There was no time to talk as orgasm crashed over her and Julianne convulsed, throat tightening around the Dimetrodon’s shaft as the ‘saur drove in hard, using Julianne’s hair as leverage to fuck her mouth, nothing more than a sex toy for their use and pleasure.

Julianne’s mother, a noblewoman, pressed herself into her husband’s side, dressed in a sari that dropped below one milky white breast, dark hair tumbling about her shoulders. Taking the Ankylosaurus’ cock in hand, she pumped the length expertly, keeping eye contact with her daughter as she bucked and screamed around her partner’s muffling shaft through the peak of orgasm. And she smiled. Her daughter would be ready. She stroked Julianne’s hair, tucking it behind her ear, and the Dimetrodon jammed her crotch up against the young woman’s lips, a feral roar erupting from her as she poured seed down Julianne’s throat, which worked quickly to swallow every drop.

Kissing the tip of the Ankylosaurus cock, tipped with glistening beads of pre-cum, the noblewoman winked to her daughter as the younger woman trembled from the power of her climax.

“With our help, you will be prepared for the alliance.”

Strolling into the dining room with four hermaphrodite dinosaurs in tow, Julianne had a bounce in her stride, come the next morning. The young woman wore nothing on her creamy skin, eyes sparkling as she seated herself across from her parents at the table. Cum trickled down her inner thighs, a quiet reminder of what she had engaged in the night before.

And now, there was no turning back.

The hermaphrodites made as if to line up behind Julianne and she clicked her tongue against the roof of her mouth, shaking her head. Her mother raised an eyebrow, curious as to what her daughter would do, as she snapped her fingers and called the Dimetrodon to her seat instead. Shi blinked and took the offered chair, sitting with her thighs, rounded with muscle, spread wide. Hir cock needed no encouragement to rise to Julianne's attention and the woman licked her lips, swinging a leg over the 'saur's lower half to poise herself above the delicious shaft. A servant walked into the room with a steaming pot, shrieked and fled as the pot fell to the floor with a clang of metal, spilling the contents over the pristine floorboards.

Giggling at the disruption, which would not dissuade her from continuing, Julianne lowered herself down on the Dimetrodon's cock, taking hir inside easily as semen lubricated her stretched out pussy. Shi gripped Julianne's hips and groaned, bucking lightly but otherwise taking hir cues from hir mistress and following her lead, as shi had been taught. Julianne's father smiled and nodded his approval, proud that their creations had proven to be so useful and trainable. They would do well for his daughter in her education, for there were many more boundaries to cross before she would be completely ready to form the alliance.

"So..." Julianne said, planting her heels on the edge of the wooden chair to languidly ride the Dimetrodon's cock as the servants watched with wide eyes. "What's for breakfast?"

The Ankylosaurus crooned and reached around the duo testing the limits of the dining chair to grope and squeeze the young woman's breasts, kneading them tenderly with her fingertips. Julianne moaned and met the dinosaur's sharp, intelligent eyes over her shoulder as shi pulled her nipples into needy peaks.

"I think you already have that covered, mistress Julianne."
