

Keeper of Dragons

Outline / Idea

A unicorn mare trains dragons for a living, keeping them in a stable on her 'farm'. She is young and headstrong, trying to make her way in the world. The dragons can be trained for use as guards, pets, for showing (events/competition) or even riding. She is somewhat known in the business but many are hesitant to take on her charges as they are yet to be proven. She needs a big break and quickly too.

She discovers that, by giving pleasure to the dragons in her care, they become more obedient and trainable. Her business is failing, so she sees this discovery as a godsend. She gives the dragons oral pleasure most days to keep them calm and they obey her more eagerly than ever.

She is taken advantage of by the dragons and fucked (one takes control and is no longer satisfied with oral). Though this is humiliating, she sees this as the next step in the process. When she falls pregnant, she claimed that the 'foal' belongs to her lover, a stallion that she has been seeing/dating for only a few months.

Pregnancy continues. Some dragons are tried for sale and found to be unruly, not suitable for riding, showing, as pets or anything else. She struggles to make ends meet and turns to her dragons for comfort, distancing herself from her lover. She is losing the life and livelihood she loved.

She tries to put on a massive show to regain funds. It goes completely wrong with a dragon killing a wealthy guest. Other dragons take advantage of other guests successfully, dragging them into the arena to fuck. She has to lay a clutch of eggs while the dragons roar and furries scream, trying to escape their lusts. Only one fur is killed.

The unicorn fights the case in court – murder? – to conclude this story and draw it all together. No longer allowed to sell on dragons (only train/show herself), she has no livelihood. Though it is better than being thrown in jail. No one really believes that she would subject herself to being fucked by dragons and she is not about to correct them on the matter. The dragon who killed a fur is put down – seen as fair to the creature who has a taste for blood – and she is heartbroken. Her lover has long left, disgusted.

Her eggs hatch and she vows to provide for them, her half-equine half-dragon babies. She will use her dragons for the sexual pleasure of furries in a perverse, travelling, pleasure palace.
